

Comparatives

Rules for Forming Comparatives:

Adding "-er":

- For one-syllable adjectives and some two-syllable adjectives, add "-er" to the adjective.
  - Example: fast → faster, tall → taller, big → bigger

Adding "More":

- For most two-syllable adjectives and multi-syllable adjectives, use "more" before the adjective.
  - Example: interesting → more interesting, modern → more modern

Irregular Comparatives:

- Some adjectives have irregular comparative forms and do not follow the "-er" or "more" pattern.
  - Example: good → better, bad → worse, far → farther (or further)

Exceptions:

- Be aware of irregularities and exceptions. For some adjectives, both forms (adding "-er" or using "more") are acceptable.
  - Example: clever → cleverer or more clever, friendly → friendlier or more friendly

Using "Than":

- Comparatives are often used in sentences with "than" to compare two things.
  - Example: This book is more interesting than the one I read last week.

Comparative with "Than" Expressing a Change:

- When comparing two actions or situations expressing a change, use "than."
  - Example: The weather today is better than yesterday.

Remember that the choice between using "-er" or "more" depends on the specific adjective, and irregular comparatives should be memorized. Practice with a variety of adjectives will help reinforce these rules.
